

When we have received your video material and confirmed its suitability for our site, you will be contacted to approve these Terms and Conditions using our on-line form.

Meet the Author (MTA) Terms and Conditions – Distribution Only

1. You have provided MTA with video material of an author promoting their book. You hereby warrant that you hold full copyright over the video material or permission from the copyright holder to provide MTA with the video material for the purposes of distributing the video on MTA's own website and the websites of its distribution platform. You hold MTA harmless against any action for copyright infringement.
2. MTA shall mark each accepted video with the MTA logo and "Submitted by the Author" reference.
3. You agree that full copyright and ownership of the version of the clip with the MTA logo shall belong at all times to MTA. For the avoidance of doubt, copyright to the original video material remains with the original owner.
4. The fee for the Distribution Only service shall be $190 for the first 60 seconds of video material plus $95 for each subsequent 30 seconds or part thereof.
5. On payment of the fee in full, the MTA branded video shall be uploaded on to the MTA streaming servers and shall be retained on the servers for a minimum period of twelve months from the date of upload.
6. It will feature on meettheauthor.com for a minimum period of twelve months.
7. Subject to the video material being of satisfactory quality, it will feature on MTA's growing online distribution platform. No refund of the fee will be due in the event that the owners of any of the distribution platforms do not wish the video material to be shown on their sites.
8. These Terms and Conditions shall be interpreted in accordance with English law.